MEMORANDUM FOR:

Curator

Historical Intelligence Collection

25X1A 1. In clearing my desk of some leftovers, it dawned on me that I had not replied to your request for an expression of interest in [redacted]

[redacted] After some checking by both our Office of Research and Development and Office of Scientific Intelligence, I find that some of our people know a little bit about this outfit and doubt that we have very much interest. As you may know.

2. Nonetheless, we are always anxious to keep in touch with bright fellows around the country just to be sure we aren't missing any bets. I suggest you advise [redacted] that although we are not sure we would have a requirement for their services, we would be most happy to have him brief us on their capability if he would like to do this on some visit to Washington. (I certainly do not wish to recommend he make a special trip for this purpose.) We will be most happy to hear his story and he could contact [redacted] a member of my staff, to work out the details.
